ILLNESS HALTS SENATE ACTION ON SMITH CASE

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Action on the qualifications of Col. Frank J. Smith, senator-designate from Illinois, to sit in the senate in all probability will be deferred until the next congress, it was indicated today when the illness of Col. Smith caused a further postponement of the inquiry by the elections committee.

Attorney Asks Delay
Delay was requested by C. J. Doyle, Chicago attorney, representing Col. Smith, who told the committee that his client is too ill to appear this time. With but 12 working days remaining of the present session, leaders said that there was slight likelihood that the case could be disposed of before March 4.

After granting the extension of time to Smith, the committee approved the credentials of more than a score of senators-elect. Due to an oversight on the part of Chairman Ernest of Kentucky, the credentials of both Smith and William S. Vare, senator-elect of Pennsylvania, were ordered favorably reported, but the action was promptly rescinded.

May Appear In Ten Days
Ernest presented the batch of credentials in a bundle and asked for favorable action. Subsequently it was discovered that the Smith and Vare credentials had been included. The Vare credentials from Gov. Pinchot are held to be irregular on their face.

In pleading for additional time for Smith, Doyle said his client had been forbidden by physicians to come to Washington. He said that Smith might be able to appear within the next ten days.

ALL MARINES ON MAIL DUTY ARE MOBILIZED

Policing Of All Central America Foreseen As Revolution Grows

(By Universal Service)
By WILLIAM P. FLYTHE
WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—The navy tonight ordered 1,600 United States marines to proceed at once to Nicaragua where they are to occupy and actively police the entire republic and suppress the revolution there.

Situation Critical
The situation is so critical, it was officially stated, that all American marines have been ordered to withdraw from duty protecting United States mails by Saturday night. They are to be mobilized immediately at Quantico, Va., Paris Island, S. C., and San Diego, Cal.

The orders tonight directed the submarine tender Melville, which took 200 marines aboard yesterday at San Diego, to proceed to Corinto, Nicaragua, under forced draft.

The commander of the American scouting fleet, engaged in maneuvers in the Gulf of Mexico, was directed to rush 200 additional marines at once. They were transferred to the cruiser Tacon from various ships of the fleet while at sea and the swift cruiser immediately left via the Panama Canal to land them at Corinto, on the west coast.

The navy transport Henderson was ordered to proceed at once to Hampton Roads to pick up 1,000 marines from Quantico and to (Continued on Page 8)

STORM HEADS FOR MIDWEST

(By Universal Service)
CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—It will be ten below zero here Saturday morning.

That was the prediction of United States weather forecaster C. A. Donnell today. He said the coldest wave of the winter would reach here during Friday night, and that on Saturday morning, there might be some frozen noses.

If the prediction of the prognosticator is borne out, then there will be a temperature drop of 50 degrees from today until Saturday morning.

The wave of cold and blizzards and wind and possibly snow originated in Alaska, it was said. The storm is part of that which struck California during the past two days, and created havoc, it was said here.

Cold Will Begin Today

The cold will begin about Friday afternoon. By Friday at dusk the temperature will have dropped, it was predicted to 15 degrees above zero, when it will then begin its descent to subzero.

There is every probability it was said that the temperature would reach 5 degrees below zero and every possibility that it will reach even five degrees below that, the lowest temperature so far this winter has been 9 below here.

The cold wave will be general throughout the middle west, and will spread towards the East, it was said.

Iowa Is Hit

The advance guard of the cold struck Iowa this morning, and was sweeping rapidly on the southern tip of Lake Michigan.

Much suffering is expected, because of the unprecedented warm weather which has pervaded the middle west for the past two weeks. The highest temperature today was 40 degrees above zero.

Opening Of Branch Banks In This City Is Doubtful

Bank of Italy and Liberty Bank May Be Denied Entry to Field

Whether or not the Bank of Italy or the Liberty Bank will be permitted to open branches in the city of Richmond will depend on the time that President Coolidge signs the McFadden bill. This new law that was passed by congress this week provides that branch banks cannot be opened except in such cities as banks have their principal places of business.

It is understood that the Liberty Bank will make an application today to Bank Commissioner Will C. Wood, for permission to open two branches in Richmond. It is also known that the Bank of Italy has an application pending.

No date for a hearing has been set by Wood, and if President Coolidge signs the McFadden bill before such time, it will automatically eliminate any other banks from opening branches in this city.

From reliable sources it has been learned that Wood will not grant any further permits for the opening of branches, until after hearings as to the necessity, have been held.

It has been common talk that the Bank of Italy and Liberty Bank were desirous of entering this field, and information has been given out that the sites for the two proposed branches have already been selected.

The statement was made last evening by a high state official that unless permits for branch banks were issued today, the opening of additional branches in different parts of the state, would be eliminated.

Protests were sent to postal authorities and Congressman Curry some days ago following the announcement that the post office department had ordered delivery from Berkeley suspended and that El Cerrito people would have to get their mail directly from the postoffice.

RAIL MERGER IS BOOSTED

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—The proposed unification of a group of railroads in the southwest under the plan sponsored by L. F. Loree, president of the Delaware & Hudson railroad, will be of great benefit to the territory to be served by the new system, Samuel W. Moore, general counsel for the Kansas City Southern, told the Interstate commerce commission today.

The Loree proposal would link the Kansas City Southern with the Missouri-Kansas-Texas and the St. Louis & Southwestern.

Approval of the plan would also enable these roads to withstand the serious inroads on their business caused by competition with other through roads now serving the territory. More said.

FARM BLOC IS VICTORIOUS IN HOUSE BATTLE

Bill Branded As Soviet Aggression; Coolidge Expected to Veto

(By Universal Service)
By ARTHUR HAGHTEN
WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Amid the confusion and disorder, the farm bloc steam roller tonight forced adoption of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill by the house without a single amendment.

The bill now goes directly to President Coolidge for his approval or veto as it has been previously passed by the senate. A veto is expected.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Sweeping aside all opposition, the farm bloc in the house today howled over the Curtis-Crisp and Aswell bills, truly clearing the decks for adoption of the McNary-Haugen bill, which has passed the senate.

Administration forces were joined by Democrats in a desperate attempt to substitute the Curtis-Crisp bill. They lined up 156 votes, against 177, rallied by the farm bloc in opposition.

The Aswell bill was smothered, 160 to 144, by teller vote. Another opportunity will be given the Aswell forces to substitute their bill. When the final roll call is taken on the McNary-Haugen bill, the Curtis-Crisp bill cannot be revived under the procedure adopted.

Party lines split wide open in the votes. Rep. Tilson of Connecticut, Republican floor leader, and Rep. Garrett of Tennessee, Democratic floor leader, pleaded with their colleagues to kill the McNary-Haugen bill.

They might as well have attempted to sweep back the ocean, the rank and file in both parties having broken completely from their leaders' leashes.

Rep. Jones, Democrat of Texas, offered what he described as the national Grange debt relief plan of farm relief. It was rejected, 110 to 33.

"You will see agriculture placed on the plans of public service corporations. Evolution of the plan will be government regulation of farmers as market on that which now exists over public utilities."

Tilson declared that the McNary-Haugen bill "lead in the direction of Sovietism and in fact a considerable step in that direction."

The bill is unconstitutional and would interfere with the constitutional powers of the president to appoint government officials, he declared.

Courts will declare the measure unconstitutional, because of the delegation of authority by congress to a federal board to levy an equalization fee, Tilson said.

Official Paper Of The City Of Richmond, California

The Spanish speaking peoples of Europe, South and Central America have bought two big buildings in New York to establish a center of trade and diplomacy, which seems to indicate that they are not so much alarmed over our foreign policy as some of our own alarmists.

Of course the French government belongs to the League of Nations, but just the same the French have massed all their best troops on the Italian frontier, indicating that they don't have much faith in the league as do some of our own internationalists.

There seems to be a great deal of disagreement among newspapers as to the exact economic condition of Florida at present. It seems to us that here is one question that could safely be left to the League of Nations.

It would be somewhat embarrassing, if on account of the high standards of political purity prevailing in Congress, so many should be expelled from that body that they would not have a quorum left to do business.—Salem News.

Some of our enlightened statesmen seem to think it's all right for Mexico to do as she pleases with Nicaragua but terribly wicked for Uncle Sam even to protect his people's interests there.

If we were appointed to the senate and the senate refused to seat us we wouldn't worry any because we have been thrown out of better places than that anyhow.

Remember the good old days when cotton stockings were used for something else than hanging by the fireplace on Christmas Eve?

Maybe these governments in Europe which have so far failed to pay us when they owe us are suffering with asphasia.

It is said that there are still forty-nine farms in Brooklyn, but even this is hardly enough to cause Al Smith to join the farm bloc.

Charlie Chaplin is a living proof of the assertion that it is possible to have sixteen million dollars and still not be entirely happy.

The only fellow who can afford to drink bootleg liquor is the one who has seen all there is to see anyhow.

Signed letters pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Letters should be brief and written in ink. Owing to the large number of letters received, only a few can be answered. No reply can be made to queries not conforming to instructions. THE HEART TROUBLE OF YOUNG PEOPLE

Whatever St. Valentine may think about it, Dr. L. F. Barker estimates in his excellent little book on "Rheumatism" (Appleton) that "from 80 percent to 95 percent of heart trouble in young people is due to rheumatic fever."

I have no anxiety about the young people, but I do hope that no old fogey will run away with the notion that all this heart trouble of young people is the penalty they have to pay eventually if not now for their recklessness about exposure. "That acute rheumatic fever is an infectious disease, just as truly as are measles and mumps, can no longer be doubted," Dr. Barker says in this same chapter. But Dr. Barker doesn't know the old timers—they still doubt the infectious character of the disease about as much as our bright grandfathers did.

Dr. Abram J. Abello and Irwin D. Sobel presented in the "Archives of Pediatrics" last September many instances in which two or three cases of rheumatic fever have occurred in the same house. Dr. St. Lawrence, quoted in Barker's book, says, "In families having one member the subject of the disease, rheumatic infection exceeds tuberculosis in family incidence and in frequency among exposed persons." There is, in short, a great deal of evidence that rheumatic fever is caused by a specific germ of virus, and is communicable in the same manner as scarlet fever, diphtheria, sore throat or other forms of crisis.

In view of my oft repeated and arbitrary denial that there is a disease or condition identifiable as "rheumatism" it is in order to explain what we are talking about. This rheumatic fever is more familiar nowadays under the name of acute inflammatory rheumatism or articular (which means of the joints) rheumatism, or among physicians as multiple infectious arthritis (arthritis meaning joint inflammation).

As the specific germ of this severe, painful, but never fatal and never permanently disabling disease (except the two cases out of each hundred in which fatal heart complications occur) is not as yet isolated it is impossible to identify the illness more positively. In practice the physician must make as sure as he can that he is dealing with rheumatic fever by diagnostic exclusion—he must make sure the illness is not septic arthritis, gonorrheal arthritis, acute osteomyelitis or bone necrosis, or the beginning of arthritis deformans, or stills disease (chronic atrophic arthritis), any of which may resemble rheumatic fever. One important reason why the physician must make sure of his diagnosis is that rheumatic fever is practically the only one of these diseases in which serious heart damage is likely to occur.

As already implied, the heart is involved fatally in about 2 percent of all cases of rheumatic fever, but some organic impairment or valvular injury does occur in fully half of all cases of acute multiple arthritis. This is a painless feature of the illness, and a complication which may not be noticed at all at the time, owing to the other sufferings of the patient and the failure of the physician to keep the heart under close observation. Such unrecognized involvement of the heart in the course of what may be a very mild or even an unrecognized rheumatic fever in childhood, accounts for many cases of inexplicable valvular deficiency or "leakage of the heart" which becomes manifest in after years. Numerous salicylates or derivatives of salicylic acid are justly famed for the relief and comfort they give the patient suffering with this painful illness. But I shall explain in another science how this very comfort too often spells danger for the patient.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Patience Are No Virtue Here

Kindly have patience and I will tell you about my trouble as briefly as I can, writes a lady—of course she is—by way of introduction to five very long pages of history and symptoms.

Answer—But I have no patients. You should submit your history and symptoms to the consideration of a physician. Even if I were a very good doctor indeed (and I need not argue about this now) I could scarcely surmise what your trouble may be or know what I had personally examined you. So I have no patience with recitals of medical history, symptomatology, what the neighbors say or what you think it is.

Mystery Stuff

My son is just a year old and as yet we have not had him circumcised. Would you advise us to have this done or not? (B. L.)

Answer—Too much mystery an homunculus surrounds the question of circumcision. The operation is advisable, in my judgment, only when there is interference with cleanliness or voiding.

Flu

How may one avoid the flu? How keep it from spreading among the immediate family (Miss L. A.)

Answer—The disease is evident by a respiratory infection. I think I know how respiratory infection ordinarily occurs, but the health authorities and doctors generally do not share my views about this. I fear, I think the flu, like all the other diseases which may be designated as common respiratory infections or cri, for short, is ordinarily spread by spray. The spray is composed of visible or invisibly fine droplets of moisture discharge of secretion given off from nose and mouth when one talks, laughs, coughs, or sneezes. The spray range is less than five feet in ordinary conversation, but increases to 10 or 12 feet if the individual sneezes or coughs without covering nose and mouth. The droplets carry some of the bacteria of the disease. So in order to avoid such infection you must keep beyond the patient's range. The amount of infection through actual contact, as by shaking hands, kissing, sharing personal implements, etc., is probably insignificant. I believe the mode of infection is practically always as I have described. This holds for all the respiratory infections, from measles to simple sore throat and vulgar coryza.

YOUR BOY AND YOUR GIRL

By ARTHUR DEAN, SC. D.
The Parent Counsellor

Dr. Dean will answer all signed letters pertaining to parents' problems with their boys and girls. Writers' names are never printed. Only questions of general interest answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamp, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Address Arthur Dean, in care of this paper.

TORN BETWEEN

"For the twentieth time today I've held him in my arms and pressed him against my bleeding heart. If the neighbors knew it they would laugh even more than they do now at my affection. As it is the town gossip—tell only the stories and repeat the sins of the fathers shall be passed on through the generations.

"But no matter how much talk I do love him and love him with all my body, soul and spiritual strength. Why need I let others have him when I want him myself?"

And then this mother goes on to tell her ten-year-old boy (tell out of a baby carriage what he was very young and so injured his head that he became normal). While he has never developed the power of speech and has apparently very little intelligence, he is physically a perfect specimen of young Loy-hood.

But let her continue her story and perhaps we can help her make a decision.

"In the past nine years we have spent all our money in an effort to have him cured. The most famous brain surgeons have operated and the most famous specialists have attempted treatment. I have engaged special assistants to try to teach him something. I have traveled miles and miles seeking specialists. I have listened to such innuendos as 'that boy never fell out of a baby carriage' and 'he was born that way' and I'll bet there is a skeleton in that family closet which accounts for that boy's condition. Blood will tell you, now."

"Now to you, Dr. Dean, and to the thousands of mothers who read your articles I put this question, SHALL I SEND THIS BOY TO A STATE INSTITUTION? No, I don't want to do that. At times I fear him. Never can I leave the house because no longer can we afford to hire servants or attendants.

"Can I bear to send him to our state institution where perhaps when he is older he will be put into a padded cell and his only outlook on life will be through a iron bars? He who smiles at me from those sensitive rosy lips? He who needs me if ever anyone needs anyone?"

"What if I should die? Who would care for him? Out Mother! Absolutely Down and Out Mother! Now what shall I tell the other whose letter is published in Parents Contribution Day? I say I don't want to send him to a state institution. I don't want to go blind whose wife, over six years old, takes in lodgers and supports a boy-man now two years old. This older couple have spent the best years of their life in a sacrificing for this abnormal child. I know a mother who still wheels in a stout baby carriage a twenty-two year old boy who was born right. These two have answered this 'Down and Out Mother' not in words but in deed."

WHAT SHALL WE TELL HER? When answering this appeal address to "Down and Out" care of Dr. Dean.

OUR CONVERSATION CORNER: Unprepared for Marriage.

What would you advise about a nineteen-year-old girl who is not able to operate a stove? Her mother can make a bag of coal last longer than her daughter can last.

ANSWER—The girl is either not mechanically, economically, or mentally minded to operate a stove. But has she ever had explained to her the question of draughts, dampers, and thermal units?

Station G R O U C H: We have a lovely boy, but I like him immensely. But husband will not let him listen in on the radio or amuse himself around the house so the boys want to go out every night. Wondering.

ANSWER—Can you blame him? What is there to stay in for? Listening to a grouch can be no substitute for a song through the ether.

The Green Worm: Girl not seem to have any friends. I love her, and the girls who want to go with me I don't care for because they are too young.

ANSWER—When I was your age I had a picture in my room with the words, "Nobody Loves Me." It was that of a boy sitting on a doorstep, his head between his hands, and the expression around his mouth looked as though he had just eaten a green worm.

Gridley—Southern Pacific Railroad installs warning signals on Hazel and Sycamore Street crossing in Gridley.

You are just at that "nobody loves me" age. A sensitivity of youth, a desire to please and a pleased fills your heart. I don't believe the rich girls are always stuck up. As a matter of fact, a truly rich girl is neither stuck up nor does she show favorites, because she is rich in understanding as well as in money. The ones who ate baked beans when they were young are usually the ones who now turn up their noses at baked beans, boiled dinners and creamed codfish.

The question to ask yourself is: "What have I that anybody wants? What have I to offer in the way of friendship? Am I interesting or grouchy? Am I sympathetic or jealous? Am I willing to give, or do I want to always get something? I am sending you an inspirational idea entitled 'Have You Taken Your Morning Beam?'"

AMATEUR ETIQUETTE: Politeness for Beginners! By Dick Calkins

WHAT'S WRONG HERE

Answer—Here is a street cleaner or your younger set setting out for a dance. The dance is formal and the evening is wet. He poses the dance will be the same. To guard against whooping cough he is wearing his rubber boots, but only a common vulgarian would tuck his pants into his rubber boots when going to a dance where the girls will perhaps object to muddy footprints on their frocks. What he should do is to carry his boots in a newspaper and don them when he arrives. This will insure their cleanliness.

The Marriage Game: As Played to a Decision Every Day By Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hailton

LOOKING FOR TROUBLE: HIS PLAY: When a woman begins to analyze the causes for her joys and sorrows she immediately begins to destroy her own peaceful and contented life.

If she takes things for what they are, she finds value, she will elude those wrinkles and crowfeet that are the trial of every woman's existence. As soon as she allows her natural ingenuity to have its way in seeking to discover why her spouse forgot to kiss her two months ago last Tuesday, she's looking for trouble and she's likely to get it, too.

HER COUNTER PLAY: Married life, then of the perfect married woman is one who has no curiosity about life, is it not? A woman who accepts disappointments without making an attempt to offset them and who never seeks the benefits and privileges that are her just due. You don't believe anything of the kind and you know it. I'm wise to you, dear and it piques you a little, to learn that you can't awe me into making a mystery of marriage.

THE REFEREE: Madam gets the award.

H.C. WITWER

Copyright, 1926, by Collier's Weekly and G. P. Putnam Sons "Bill Grimm's Progress" is a picturization by Film Booking Offices of America, Inc., (F. B. O.) of H. C. Witwer's stories of the same name.

Barbara Baxter, a federal detective, catches Jack Fairfax bootlegging, helped in her efforts by Bill Grimm. Bill comes to New York, as does Pansy Pilkington, his friend, who aspires to the stage. Jack gives her a job. Bill becomes a prize-fighter and knocks out several good men. He is trained by Butch Ford. He rises rapidly. On one of his motor-boat trips with Barbara he rescues a drowning man.

I tore off my shoes, shed coat, collar and shirt in the wall knocking and dived. We were both under a half dozen times till finally I managed to tap my vis-a-vis on the chin and he went limp. His name in round numbers was Johnson, and he freely admitted being a drug fiend. Johnson had belonged to a mob of dope smugglers working with the crews of certain steamers making New York as a regular port. Coming into Quarantine at night, the crews would drop packets overboard attached to floats, and the smugglers would cruise by in the darkness later and pick them up.

Johnson claimed he'd been trying to break the drug habit and quit these gyps who pass in the night, who'd flung him a charge to make a squeal and threatened to cook him. Terrified by their warnings and driven cuckoo by hop, Johnson had decided he was taking the nearest exit when he leaped off the ferry.

When we got to the bathhouse I phoned Butch Ford for dry clothes for me, and Barbara for a change of Johnson, who was close to the heebie-jeebies. After he'd repeated

Without lights we made the run to Quarantine in five minutes, in spite of a pitch-black night, a high wind and a pelting rain. We drove off the stern of the big freighter Johnson had tipped us off on just in time to hear the putt-putt of the smugglers' craft going away, and then the rain was on! We'd mounted a high-powered searchlight on my boat, and by swinging this back and forth we quickly picked out our prey slipping along in waistcoats of foam. Then the chase began!

People that was one exciting evening! The smugglers replied to a megaphoned command to stop by turning loose a volley of shots which splattered all around us. The customs guys promptly returned the compliment, and as I'd brought a gun along just in case, so did I. Bullets flew right and left—no kidding, it was like Calico! I made Barbara crouch down out of range and stood in front of her as much as I could when three or four times flying lead splattered the rails and sides of my boat. I didn't raise and crouch a stone. I knew the smugglers headed for a dock, and it's a good thing for us they didn't, because my expensive "Miss Barbara" riddled with bullets, sank like a stone. I didn't know after we'd all leaped out on the dock after 'em.

Well, we fought all over the dock in the storm, soaking whenever a head showed up, which didn't resemble a revenue agent. We finally beat the gang into listening to reason and rounded them all up, handcuffed and quite a bit shopworn. But Mr. J. Fairfax was not in their midst, although I went over them five times with a flash light!

"Not today or any other day, Bill!" smiles Pansy, a bit sorrowful. "I saw him when he arrived. Yvette! any more. I'm—er—resting!"

"You—you threw up a chance like that?" I exclaimed, believing my ears. "You let him go?"

"Pardon you—I did not!" returns Pansy. "Fairfax fired me!"

"Well, I'll be a cup of cocoa!" I breathe. "Look here, Pansy, you've got a bit of that show why some of the critics was afraid you was a success and predicted your name would soon be up in the lights! Another thing, Jack Fairfax has been trying to make you for months, to my knowledge. He wouldn't give you the air for no ordinary reason! Now, what's the answer?"

"A word, she stalled for a bit, but I'm hard to discourage when I'm interested, and finally I got the low-down.

"Bill," says Pansy, toying with her head bag and looking down at the floor, "you scored a bull's-eye with your guess that Fairfax's interest in me was—was, well, for no good reason! In fact, he's disappointed because so far from getting me to stop him from calling on me. Did you know he is a drug fiend?"

I shook my head, amazed.

"And that isn't all!" continues Pansy. "He's mixed up with a gang of dope peddlers! I found that out when I let him use my apartment one night for what he called a conference with his business associates. Naturally, I thought he meant his partners in the production of his show. When they left I told him what I'd overheard, and he tried his dermestad to get me to—take cocaine. I think it was! Of course I was furious and ordered him out. Then he got vavvy and tried to get on over him. 'Come—like this!' I invited him, but he never got started. I just sprayed him with lefts and rights, battering him all over the ring and dropping him four times in the first two minutes. The customers was on their chairs screaming wildly, and Rough House Gallagher was on the ropes, out on his feet, when the referee stepped between us and motioned me to my corner just as a sponge came slipping in from Gallagher's handlers. The fight lasted less than a round, and now you know what made the reporters think I'd sworn a vow to kill the unfortunate Rough House Gallagher."

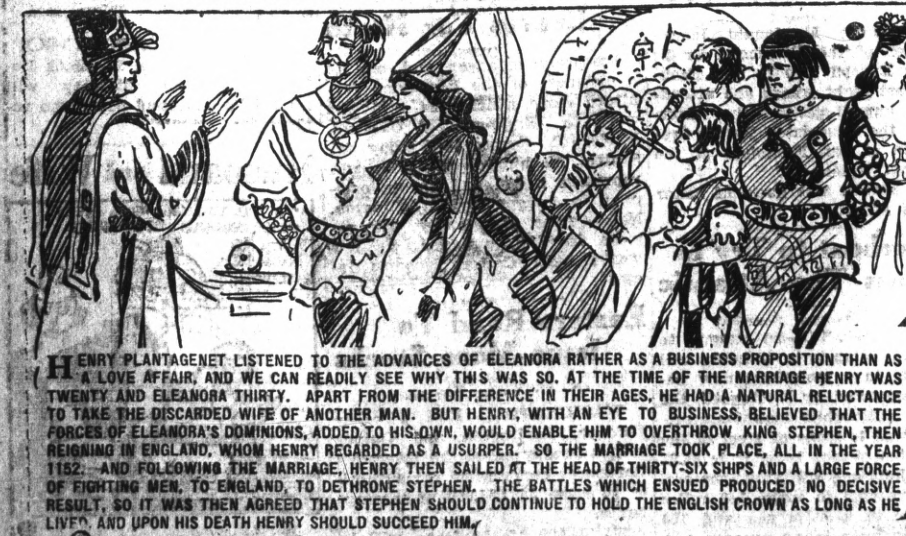

The instant the bell rung I let off steam by charging madly at Rough House Gallagher and eyeing him over him. 'Come—like this!' I invited him, but he never got started. I just sprayed him with lefts and rights, battering him all over the ring and dropping him four times in the first two minutes. The customers was on their chairs screaming wildly, and Rough House Gallagher was on the ropes, out on his feet, when the referee stepped between us and motioned me to my corner just as a sponge came slipping in from Gallagher's handlers. The fight lasted less than a round, and now you know what made the reporters think I'd sworn a vow to kill the unfortunate Rough House Gallagher."

I'd jumped to my feet before she got half finished.

"Hold everything!" she says. "For Goshakes, lay off Fairfax, Bill. He's poison! It's just one more thing, when the referee stepped between us and motioned me to my corner just as a sponge came slipping in from Gallagher's handlers. The fight lasted less than a round, and now you know what made the reporters think I'd sworn a vow to kill the unfortunate Rough House Gallagher."

Men Who Made the World

HENRY PLANTAGENET LISTENED TO THE ADVANCES OF ELEANORA RATHER AS A BUSINESS PROPOSITION THAN AS A LOVE AFFAIR, AND WE CAN READILY SEE WHY THIS WAS SO. AT THE TIME OF THE MARRIAGE HENRY WAS TWENTY AND ELEANORA THIRTY. APART FROM THE DIFFERENCE IN THEIR AGES, HE HAD A NATURAL RELUCTANCE TO TAKE THE DISCARDED WIFE OF ANOTHER MAN. BUT HENRY, WITH AN EYE TO BUSINESS, BELIEVED THAT THE PRINCESS OF ELEANORA'S DOMINIONS, ADDED TO HIS OWN, WOULD ENABLE HIM TO OVERTHROW KING STEPHEN, THEN REIGNING IN ENGLAND, WHOM HENRY REGARDED AS A USURPER. SO THE MARRIAGE TOOK PLACE. ALL IN THE YEAR 1152. AND FOLLOWING THE MARRIAGE, HENRY THEN SAILED AT THE HEAD OF THIRTY-SIX SHIPS AND A LARGE FORCE OF FIGHTING MEN, TO ENGLAND, TO DETHRONE STEPHEN. THE BATTLES WHICH ENSUED PRODUCED NO DECISIVE RESULT, SO IT WAS THEN AGREED THAT STEPHEN SHOULD CONTINUE TO HOLD THE ENGLISH CROWN AS LONG AS HE LIVED, AND UPON HIS DEATH HENRY SHOULD SUCCEED HIM.

KING RICHARD I.

UPON STEPHEN'S DEATH IN 1154, HENRY RETURNED FROM NORMANDY TO ENGLAND AND WAS UNEXPECTEDLY ACKNOWLEDGED KING. ELEANORA ACCOMPANIED HIM AS QUEEN AND THE PAIR WERE CROWNED AT WESTMINSTER WITH ALL POSSIBLE POMP AND CEREMONY. AND NOW WE KNOW THE STORY OF ELEANORA OF AQUITAINE AND HOW SHE CAME TO BE QUEEN CONSORT OF ENGLAND AND THE MOTHER OF THAT INTERESTING PERSONALITY, KING RICHARD THE FIRST.

Avoid Hot Towel Treatment

ELEANOR BOARDMAN

"Steaming the face to cleanse the pores thoroughly is one of the best known aids to beauty. But—

Not knowing how to steam the face properly can do more harm than good. The hot towel treatment so prevalent a few years ago and still continued by many women today, has been proven to be harmful rather than beneficial to the skin. Large pores, flabby muscles, blotched skins are often the result of this method of steaming the face, with the pity of it being that the cause of these bad effects is usually unknown and many women continue using hot towel applications to aid the skin!

Eleanor Boardman, charming film star whose delicate, fine textured skin has been commented on by famous beauty experts, advocates steaming the face to cleanse the pores, but she insists on doing away with the hot towel applications and using rather the vapor method.

"This is the most successful way I have found of steaming the face," says the dainty star of "Tell It to the Marines," and "Bardelys the Magnificent." "It's done like this, at least by me. First I heat a pan of water or tea kettle to the boiling point. Then I make a cone of a piece of stiff paper and put the large end over the face and the other end in the water so that the steam will be evenly distributed over the skin. When it gets too hot I move back from it slightly to permit the perfect circulation of steam through the cone, but never too far away to feel a change in temperature. This method was taught me by my grandmother, but I am surprised to discover how few women know it. "When hot towels are used, besides the harm that prolonged contact does to sensitive skins, the danger lies in allowing the face to cool between each application of towels. This does more harm than good. It is the even heat that is beneficial.

"Another thing to remember is that steaming the face is like giving the body a Turkish bath. Everyone knows that Turkish baths should not be taken too often. But few women realize that they should not steam their faces except occasionally. The face should not be steamed for more than ten minutes at a time, and there should be a thin layer of cold cream over the face to penetrate the pores when open and cleanse them.

"If there are any blemishes that are not rectified by the steaming, they can be pressed out with the fingers, around which a soft cloth has been wrapped, immediately after the steaming process.

"The pores should always be closed with ice or very cold water after any hot cleansing of the face."

NIGHT CLUB QUEEN LANDS IN HOOSEGOW

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Texas Gull, queen of New York's night life, is in jail.

Her "200" club was raided early this morning by federal prohibition agents while 200 of her elegantly clad patrons, assisted by a score of waiters, tipped over glasses and bottles in a delirium of excitement.

It was the most sensational prohibition raid in the history of broad minded and sophisticated Broadway.

Texas is charged with: 1.—Selling liquor. 2.—Possessing liquor. 3.—Violating a personal injunction issued by a federal court. No bail was permitted on charge No. 3 and Texas will remain high and very dry in a cell until a federal judge has time to hear her case.

Just as Texas, who recently featured a magazine article titled "hello sucker," was led into her cell, she was asked: "What would you like to read?" "I want a confessions magazine," she replied. "And now as to you prohibition boys, you have been very kind to me, and I know you were only doing what you thought best. I have no ill feeling against you."

Hundreds of big "butter" eggs men will testify that that was just like Tex.

And then the "woman everybody knows" the woman who can make a small town man with a few dollars to spend (no objection to a great many dollars) feel like the biggest man in New York went to sleep on her 6 by 2 cot. "I've slept on worse," she commented.

And those who "knew her when" knew it was only too true. Texas was one of more than fifty proprietors of night clubs raided last December and federal agents enjoined them from further violation of the liquor laws.

Prohibition agents said today that in all probability Texas would have to spend a year in jail, and that six months was the minimum penalty. She would not be let off with a fine, they said.

'A LUNATIC AT LARGE' IS AT THE CALIFORNIA

A wedding in a dirigible starts off the fun in First National's latest comedy "The Lunatic at Large," which comes to the California theatre today and tomorrow, starring Leon Errol and Dorothy Mackail.

Kenneth McKenna's twin brother in the picture has Kenneth placed in an asylum while he escapes away with Ken's girl (Dorothy Mackail) whom he is going to wed in a dirigible.

Leon Errol gets hold of a rope ladder and makes his way into the dirigible while it is rising and as a result there is no wedding, but one of the biggest thrills in pictures when Leon grabs Dorothy around the waist and leaps from the dirigible in a parachute and descends several thousand feet to the ground.

There are enough thrills in this one sequence to satisfy most people for life, for in the end the dirigible blows up and disappears in smoke and a cloud of flame.

This is said to be Errol's greatest comedy vehicle and was filmed from J. Storer Clouston's three famous books, "The Lunatic at Large Again," "The Lunatic Still at Large," and "The Lunatic Still at Large."

Other features on the same program include the third story of youthful folly, "The Collegians," "Felix the Cat," International News and Larry Cando at the organ.

Mayor Urges Observance Of Narcotic Week

Stressing the importance of educating all citizens and agencies of the county to realization of the menace of narcotics, Mayor Mattie Chandler of Richmond yesterday issued a proclamation urging that the last week in February be observed as Narcotic Education week. The proclamation reads:

Whereas, narcotic drug addiction is a menace to the safety and the welfare of society and education is universally recognized as an important means of treating such social ills;

Whereas, the world conference on narcotic education has called for a week to be observed throughout the world as narcotic week, the last week in February each year, and has requested the cooperation of individuals and organizations, including governments;

Now therefore, I, mayor of the City of Richmond, hereby proclaim the last week in February, 1927, as Narcotic Education week, and invoke the interest of all citizens and organized agencies of the land for the fitting observance of this week in the extension of narcotic education.

FORD PREDICTS COWLESS AND PIGLESS ERA

DR. JOHN HARVEY KELLOGG

Superintendent of Battle Creek Sanitarium and Founder of Battle Creek College.

(Copyright 1927, Universal Service) BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Feb. 17.—Mr. Ford is right. The cow, the pig, and even chickens are unnecessary. A few walnut or hickory nut trees in the back yard and along the highways with field crops of the soy bean and the peanut will supply the country with everything essential that is desired from the cow, the pig and the chicken, and at a vastly less cost.

The fact is these farm animals, excepting horses, are a liability and a hazard. They eat up more than three-fourths of all the food our farms produce and they return in food products only a small part of what they consume—only three pounds in a hundred in the case of beef, cattle, for example.

The natural products of the field and the tree are pure, free from germs and disease while milk and meat are always infected with germs of the filthiest sort of common sewer or colon germs.

These suggestions of Mr. Ford are by no means vagaries. They are soundly based. The ideas are not new. Man is naturally a vegetable feeder.

All scientists agree that primitive man lived upon the products of the earth, as the gorilla, the chimpanzee and other of man's nearest relatives in the animal kingdom still do. The Chinese have lived for many centuries on a meatless, milkless diet. Even bottle-fed babies are supplied with milk prepared from walnuts, almonds or other nuts.

From an economic standpoint, Mr. Ford's proposition is unassailable. Mr. Ford is not a mere theorist, and he is not a faddist. He has demonstrated his superior intelligence and level headedness by becoming within a quarter of a century the richest man in the world and the greatest organizer of industry and has made more contributions to industrial progress and to the general public welfare than any other living man. His suggestion of a milkless, eggless, meatless diet is not a mere conjecture. He has tried it and found it good.

Mr. Ford's brilliance characterizes him as a genius but he is not a wizard. He has the advantage that he attacks his problems with a mind unbiased and unspooled by the adumbrating influence of scholastic training and untried by that bogey of progress, "It can't be done."

Realtors Hear Of Increase In Property Values

The rapid increase in property values in the East Bay section was told by Albery E. Norman, international Sunday school secretary and prominent realtor of Oakland before the meeting of the Richmond Real Estate luncheon in the Hotel Carquinez at noon yesterday. Mayor Mattie Chandler was also a speaker.

Norman declared that the realtor of today is a financier and that millions of dollars worth of property is transferred each year solely on the advice of realtors.

The rise in values is the same in every section of the East Bay, Norman pointed out. He declared that the coming of the Ford plant to Richmond would mean a tremendous increase in property values.

Mayor Chandler spoke of the realtors and their help to the city and the council. She paid high tribute to the late W. H. Sanford, a realtor who did much for the advancement of the city. Mrs. W. H. Sanford arranged the program and piano selections were rendered by Miss Azalia Sanford.

GREAT GATSBY NOW SHOWING AT RICHMOND

"If the Jazz Age has done nothing else, it's made mothers popular," according to Lois Wilson, featuring along with Warner Baxter, Neil Hamilton and Georgia Hale in Herbert Brenson's new Paramount production, "The Great Gatsby," which arrives at the Richmond theatre today.

"Only a few years ago," says Miss Wilson, "no young actress would pay a mother role. It was a sure sign that she was definitely out of the ingenue class. The lady was automatically relegated to that slightly innocuous, careworn decrepitude of haus-frau. Night clubs, the Charleston and Prohibition cocktails were taboo. Her hair was gray—and small wonder. The parts written for her were likewise drab and dull. Even though a mother in real life, that fact had to be guarded like some terrible secret."

Now all is different. Playing the part of a young mother is merely a tribute to one's versatility. The jazz mama, similar to Daisy Buchanan which I play in "The Great Gatsby" is often more attractive than her daughter. I can name several examples of screen players who have recently been cast in mother roles: Aileen

Local Lions To Visit Suisun

The Richmond Lions club will take a prominent part in the program for the charter presentation at the Suisun Lions club on March 5, it was announced by A. C. Faris, secretary of the local den. A large number of members will attend the ceremonies and H. H. Mylander will render vocal selections and the Richmond Lions club orchestra will play a group of selections.

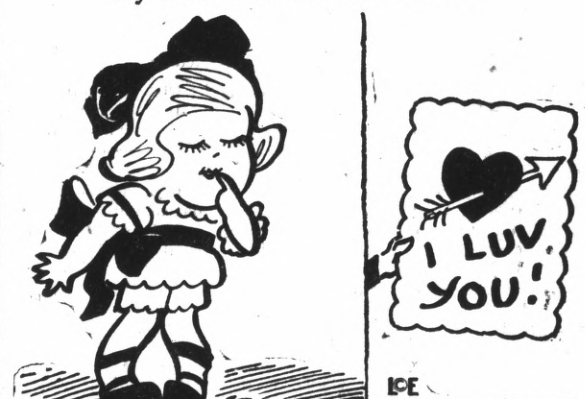

Pringle, Alice Joyce, Florence Vidor, Esther Ralston and numerous others. They are all young and beautiful and will be playing flappers or ingenues tomorrow. So much for the much-decried Jazz Age. Its destructive energies have broken down the line between age and youth, with results that are by no means confined to the mimic world of stage and screen.

Other film features include "Thundering Fleas" an Our Gang comedy and "Cut Price Glory" a Life cartoon.

Upon his arrest he was certified to the juvenile court by Justice of the Peace John Roth.

DRUNKENNESS TESTS MADE BY LONDON POLICE

(By Universal Service)

By ROBERT J. PREW
Special Cable Dispatch

LONDON, Feb. 17.—The question "when is a person legally drunk," which has assumed national importance in view of the numerous prosecutions against motorists, was decided in a report issued tonight for the guidance of the police by a committee of the council of the British medical association.

As a result of exhaustive tests extending over many months the committee decided that a person is drunk if under the influence of alcohol he lost control of his faculties to such an extent as to render him incapable of safely executing his immediate duties.

The police doctors are warned, however, to consider whether a man's state may not be due to pathological conditions which cause symptoms similar to those of alcohol.

The committee lists the typical symptoms of intoxication as follows:

- 1.—A dry furred tongue or, conversely, excessive saliva.
- 2.—Irregularities in behavior such as insolence, abusive language, loquacity, excitement or sullenness and disorder of dress.
- 3.—Pupils of the eyes vary from extreme dilation to extreme constriction.
- 4.—Loss or confusion of memory, particularly regarding recent events.
- 5.—Hesitancy and thickness of speech and impaired articulation.
- 6.—Tremors and errors of articulation and coordination of speech.

The committee declared that no one test is sufficient but that a correct conclusion can be reached from the consideration of the combination of several tests.

It is recommended that the police adopt the certificate of drunkenness drawn up by the Danish medico-legal council and adopted by the Danish Ministry of Justice which tests a man's appearance, manner, memory, speech, ability to calculate, his gait, gestures and handwriting.

Mabel Normand Holds Own In Serious Illness

(By Universal Service)

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17.—Still in extreme danger, but fighting her battle for life against bronchial pneumonia with renewed courage, Mabel Normand, screen star, was apparently holding her own late this afternoon at the Santa Monica hospital.

Dr. George K. Dazey, one of her physicians, said after a visit to the sick room:

"Miss Normand is more cheerful today and that will help. Her temperature at its highest in the last 12 hours was 101.8, lower than it has been for some time."

"She was given a treatment this afternoon with an Alpine sun lamp and the violet rays seemed to alleviate her pain. In this type of pneumonia there is no acute crisis, as there is in the lobar form. It is just a case of a slow, steady battle. We feel there is no cause for immediate alarm."

Miss Normand is able to take only milk as nourishment. Low Cody, her actor husband, is keeping constant vigil at her bedside. Scores of telegrams of sympathy have been received in the sick room.

CHEMICAL CO WILL LOCATE IN RICHMOND

When you read it in the RECORD-HERALD, you can make up your mind it is true, all assertions to the contrary notwithstanding. The above statement is brought out by a denial in a local afternoon paper of a story published by the RECORD-HERALD that the Stauffer Chemical Company had purchased a site in North Richmond, and intended to erect a new chemical factory on it.

But the most astonishing thing was that on Thursday evening this same local evening paper denied its story of the previous night, and confirmed the exclusive story of the RECORD-HERALD of Tuesday by stating the Stauffer company was to erect a $200,000 plant.

Construction will be started within a few weeks. The project comes as a result of the transfer by the Stauffer Chemical company, of San Francisco, of its ten acre tract adjacent to its Stego plant to the Lacquer Chemicals company. The new plant will be erected upon this site.

Tentative plans include the erection of a brick building and portions of the harbor front and service tracts, near Stego have been transferred to the Lacquer Chemicals Company, according to deeds filed in Martinez.

The plant will manufacture "nitrocellulose," a compound composed of nitric acid and cotton and which is used extensively in the manufacture of raw lacquer materials.

FAST BOUTS AT EL CERRITO CLUB TONIGHT

All ready, say go. Frankie Bray, Oakland laundry driver welterweight, who has been going so well in the past few months is ready and will go in the feature bout of ten rounds for tonight at El Cerrito. Frankie will face the celebrated knockout king Pete Meyers of San Francisco. With both boys having such knockout records as Bray and Meyers the fans may again be treated to seeing one of them being put to sleep. To date in this locality alone Bray scored in three starts, knockouts over Eddie Hoppe in one round and Billy Maher in five rounds. Meyers stopped George Bagels twice and at the last show put to sleep "Cyclone" Pete Morton, the handsome West Oakland colored shik.

Meyers will have no easy task. Bray has fought the best. A month back in Oakland Bray and Teddy Makason fought one of the greatest fights ever seen in Oakland. Makason is being touted as a champion. He recently held Jack Thompson to a draw. That gives one an idea just how good Bray is at present and what Meyers is going up against. Bray has little fear of the Meyers punch and says he may do a little of that knockout punching himself. Both boys will be trying hard as the winner has been promised a probable shot at the next show with Vic Morrison the fast Oakland welterweight who has fought them all.

The balance of the card stands out like the main and every bout spells class. Young Pancho Villa the fast Oakland little flyweight will face Frisco Lenda, who at the last show beat Joe De Maria. Lenda made a big hit and although Villa beat him a month ago at Modesto there are few who think Villa can repeat the feat. Four other fast fights of four rounds will also go on and in that at the Chief Whahoo and Cliff Ottenger go is attracting more attention than all the rest combined. All outward predictions spell that this will be a sell out as the seat sale warrants all previous demands.

U. C. Cagers To Meet Cardinals Friday Night

BERKELEY, Calif., Feb. 17.—The University of California basketball team will open the final drive in its campaign to take its fourth consecutive Pacific coast conference championship Friday night, when the Golden Bears meet the Stanford Varsity at the Oakland auditorium in the first of their three-game series. The winner of the series will take two titles at once—the Stanford-California dual championship, equivalent in the west to the Harvard-Yale title in the east, and the championship of the southern division of the Pacific Coast conference, carrying with it the right to meet the northern division winners in the final series to decide the coast crown.

Although both teams rank equally in conference standings at present, California rules a slight favorite by reason of no defeats in either conference or non-conference games, while the Cardinals have dropped four close contests—two to the University of California at Los Angeles, one to Fresno State, and one by one point to the Olympic club.

LA GRIPPE EPIDEMIC IN MOSCOW IS THREATENING

1ST BIG STAKE RACE OF 1927 SLATED TODAY

(By Universal Service)
NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 17.—The New Orleans handicap, first noteworthy stake race of 1927, will be run over the Fair Grounds course tomorrow by 32 thoroughbreds, 3 to 6 years old to go one and one-sixteenths miles, winner to receive $50,000 net.

Careful comparison of final trials, weights to be carried, jockeys to ride and inclination to traverse the route, lead to these as the money horses:

1.—Banton, 112; Justice F., 111; William Daniel Entry.
2.—Cotlogomor, 107; Boon Companion, 119; S. A. Cowan entry.
3.—Peter Peter, 105; Navigator, 119; Mrs. Payne Whitney entry.
4.—Old Slip, 120; G. Collins.

Lightly weighted horses are selected, reasoning that the pace will be so killing that the high weights must falter in the grueling stretch run.

Sir Peter, 114 pounds and Teak 104, to race for Moss Goldblatt, have been heavily played to win the rich purse. They have been brought from Miami for the purpose.

Banton, Bulletin and Tangara get in with 112 pounds, Bulletin leaves the post quickest, has a world of early speed, but hangs in the final stages.

Cannae is attracting support since he won the Coliseum purse Tuesday in 1:47 for one and one-sixteenth miles—the best effort, at the distance, of the meeting. The day before he worked a mile, hard held, in 1:41 with his handicap weight of 106 pounds up, best work of the season. He could have made it in 1:39. He is a bit lame today.

Should the track become heavy, Prickly Heat and My Colonel with 111 each, Brilliant with only 103 and Arabian with 104 would all be dangerous.

I pass these blue bloods as being over weighted. Broadway Jones 132, King Nadi, 129; Bagenhage, 128; Noah, 123; Helen's Babe 119; Vespasian, 119; Almadel, 117, and Blodin, 118.

I give no part of the purse to Amalcar, Scotland, Good Shepherd, Comrade, Iron Mask II, No Regrets, Pretty Miss, Shark, Creek Indian, Huntsman, Fire On, Indian, Miles Pryor and Mom's Boy. They are outclassed. Only a serious accident among the better horses would let them in.

Blame Silk Hose For Slim Ankles, Terrible Colds

(By Universal Service)

LONDON, Feb. 17.—Silk stockings which let in the health giving ultra violet rays of the sun, so 'tis alleged by fashion experts, at last have met their nemesis at the hands of the medical profession.

They may attract the ultra-violet rays of the sun, and the ultra-violet glances of admiring masculinity, but they also let in the cold, cold gusts of the cold, cold wind of the cold, cold wintertime. Worse still, according to London physicians, these pink silk stockings probably are tucked away damp beneath an office desk for hours, but then—

"Girls have become such hardy creatures that I believe they are now much less liable to colds than are men."

Such was the opinion of a London physician recently quoted by the Daily Express, he added:
"But I do think the bad-weather shoes and stockings are a weak point, however, one must admit the difficult point that as stockings grow more sensible, ankles will grow thicker."

Mr. Haskell Completely Relieved

Mr. J. Haskell was very much discouraged after two months of the Fong Wan treatment and wished to quit.

He was urged to continue the herbs and was completely relieved after three more months of the Fong Wan Herb Treatment.

His testimonial follows:

Oakland, Calif.

I suffered for many years from sore of the stomach and from bladder trouble. After years of treatment without results, I became very much discouraged and feared that I should never again be well. One day I saw in the newspaper a report that Mr. J. P. Oliver had given to the FONG WAN HERB CO. As his case had been similar to mine, I called upon Mr. Oliver and learned from him that everything stated in that testimonial was true. I then began to faithfully take the FONG WAN HERB TREATMENT and after three months I was a well man. At the time of this writing my blood test is negative and my bladder is in splendid condition. 3113 Linden St.

VETS BILL TO BE CONSIDERED MONDAY NIGHT

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Final action on the Green Smoot bill to authorize government loans to World War veterans on bonus certificates is scheduled for next Monday night.

After a sharp flare-up, the Senate today agreed to hold a special session Monday night to consider the veterans' bill. The alien property bill was coupled in the unanimous consent agreement.

Senator Ashurst of Arizona made an unsuccessful attempt to get unanimous consent, but when other senators sought to include several other measures, Senator Borah of Idaho demanded the "regular order of business."

Warm Conversation
"Who objected, Mr. President?" angrily demanded Ashurst.

"If it is necessary, I will say that I objected," retorted Borah.

Senator Curtis of Kansas, Republican floor leader, finally obtained the necessary consent, but not until after Senator Bruce of Maryland, who insisted upon consideration of the French spoliation claims bill, and Senator Heflin of Alabama, had concluded a hot personal tilt.

Heflin asserted that Bruce was seeking action on a bill that had been before Congress for over 100 years and was holding up action on the veterans bill.

"The bill may be 100 years old," retorted Bruce, "but the senator from Alabama recently reviewed the issue of religious prejudice and that is 600 years old."

"Yes," shot back Heflin, "and I'll speak again and pay my respects to the senator from Maryland."

Coldstreams Off for China Amid Heart Throbs

(By Pacific & Atlantic)

World war days were recalled in the emotional farewell that Londoners gave the Coldstream guards, private guards to the king, when they left for China. They entrained at Waterloo station. Here they are marching over Westminster bridge followed by crowd.

DREDGING WILL START SOON ON LOCAL HARBOR

Dredging of Richmond harbor in compliance with the agreement with the Ford Motor company in locating an assembling plant in Richmond, will probably start some time in March, following receipt of a wire from Congressman Charles F. Curry to City Manager A. J. McVittie yesterday, in which it was stated that the chief of engineers in Washington has approved plans and specifications with minor changes.

The approved plans have been sent to the office of the district engineer in San Francisco and should reach there Saturday or Monday, according to Curry.

Bids will be let for the dredging and a bulkhead to retain the mud must be built before operations can start, McVittie stated.

Stanton—Construction commenced on $20,000 new factory of Western Art Publishing company.

Britain Will Determine Its China Policy At Meet Today

(By Universal Service)

LONDON, Feb. 17.—The British cabinet is meeting tonight in a special session to determine a new policy which has been made necessary by the debacle of General Sun Chuan Fang's defeated armies. The cabinet will also endeavor to formulate an answer to the two demands of Eugene Chen, Cantonese foreign minister, which he insists upon before he will deal with the British representative, General O'Malley for an agreement as to Hankow.

Chen's demands are a reiteration of those made for the recognition of the Cantonese government. His first demand is the repudiation of the Peking government. His second is the limitation of the Shanghai defense force to the brigade of troops already there. It is understood there is a strong sentiment in the cabinet against the acceptance of either of Chen's demands.

Well informed government officials predict that the Shanghai defense force now en route to China will be directed by wireless to proceed to Shanghai without stopping at Hankow.

make another stop at Paris Island S. C., to pick up 200 more.

Only the most serious developments promoted the dispatch of an overwhelming marine force to Nicaragua and the withdrawal of marines from protecting American mails, it was stated. General Lejeune, commanding officer of the marine corps, in a letter to Postmaster General New notifying him that marines would have to be withdrawn, declared that "exigencies of the service" made it necessary.

Large Force Detailed

The large force of marines is to be used for immediate occupation of Nicaragua, it was learned. The dispatch of 460 to proceed to Corinto, port for Managua, the capital, will swell the force already there to close to 1,000. At least half of these marines will go to Matagalpa, second city of importance in Nicaragua, now in control of the Sacasa rebels and declare it a neutral zone, it was learned. Others will be placed at every small town or village.

The east coast of Nicaragua, where the revolutionists are strongest, is already well policed by American marines and every town has been declared a neutral zone, where there may be no fighting.

The whole of Central America is said to be seething with a revolution sympathetic with that in Nicaragua. This is particularly true of Honduras and Guatemala and officials said that it would not be surprising to see Admiral Latimer put armed forces in those countries if it appears that American life or property is in danger.

By GEORGE W. HINMAN, Jr.

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 17.—Mexico City is stirred by a dispatch from Guatemala relative to reported credits to Guatemala and Juan Sacasa, liberal leader in Nicaragua which are supposed to have been advanced in gold by the Bank of Mexico.

While it is recognized generally that the bank has the same right to make loans to other governments as New York banks, it is reported the credits have aroused the greatest interest on account of the Nicaraguan disturbances.

Honduras Revolts

Reports of insurrectionary activities in Honduras have been current recently. The Guatemalan report relative to the Ferrara projected revolt with the aid of a gun runner from New Orleans recalled messages yesterday from Gulf ports asserting that a strange craft had been seen off shore.

The Mexican government immediately ordered naval vessels to patrol the coasts for the purpose of preventing possible filibusterers from invading territorial waters.

FLOYD HALL CASE TO GO TO JURY TODAY

(By Universal Service)

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 17.—The fate of Floyd Hall, youthful bandit and prison breaker, on trial a second time for the murder of Harry L. Litzberg, Sacramento merchant, will be placed in the hands of the jury of seven women and five men tomorrow.

action of the state during the storm, just passed with a precipitation of 3.91 inches. San Francisco recorded 2.36 inches for the storm period. El Cajon, near San Diego, however, won precipitation honors for the state with 12.38 inches of rain.

Highways Blocked

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17.—Opening of main highways that had been blocked as the result of the storm was reported today by the California State Automobile association. Rapid recovery of motor travel conditions followed the cessation of rains, according to a state-wide survey of the road situation by the association Touring Bureau. The association report at the close of the day yesterday follows:

Coast and valley routes to Los Angeles open but careful driving necessary as there is considerable debris on the southern part of the coast route and much mud and rock on the ridge route south of the valley road south. South of Los Angeles conditions are unchanged with both roads to San Diego closed by slides and practically all other roads in this section, including those to San Bernardino, Riverside and Imperial Valley, closed.

Westside highway in Sacramento valley, water over roadway near Maxwell subsiding and road expected to be open to travel by Friday morning. Pacific highway open.

Redwood highway: Temporary road built over the large slide south of Scotia opening this route to light travel through to Eureka. Slide expected to be cleared by Saturday.

L. A. Back to Normal

(By Universal Service)

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 17.—Sunshine supplanted cloudy skies over southern California today and this section of the state was rapidly returning to normal after more than 100 hours of almost steady rain.

The damage done by the storm in this area was estimated at between $500,000 and $1,000,000, but loss will be far outweighed by the benefit to farms and orchards, according to government and state agricultural officials.

Railway and wire communication were rapidly returning to normal. The only line still out of service was the Santa Fe to San Diego, which will probably resume operation tomorrow. Union Pacific and Santa Fe east bound trains were operating on schedule and the Southern Pacific had partially resumed its service in that direction.

Hundreds of families driven from their homes by high water were returning to them today.

Polish Jails Are Branded Stone Coffins

(By Universal Service)

BERLIN, Feb. 17.—Accusations against the administration of justice in Poland are raised in a report of a Polish parliamentary investigating committee just presented to the Sejm.

As reported in the German press, the committee designated some Polish prisons as "stone coffins" and Polish prison hospitals as "corpse factories."

During the committee's investigation, it is asserted, 33,000 prisoners were being held in Poland, or two for every thousand of the adult population. Of these, 2,000 are classed as political prisoners.

Many of the prisoners, it is asserted, rot in these "stone coffins" for two or three years before they are even notified of the charges

(By Universal Service)

CAMDEN, N. J., Feb. 16.—Miss Elinor Dorrance, 19 year heiress to the $30,000,000 estate of her father, Dr. John T. Dorrance, of the Campbell Soup Company, wants to return to her thirty cents an hour position in the Campbell plant here.

Miss Dorrance, whose home is in Morristown, worked in the plant last fall. She returned two days ago from a trip abroad and today applied for her old position.

Despite these charges, however, the Sejm, after a debate of five days, rejected all the reform proposals made by the committee.

CLAMPITT IS RETURNED TO S.F. PRESIDIO

(By Universal Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 17.—Captain Orville L. Clampitt, army chaplain, acquitted a year ago on charges of conduct unbecoming an officer brought by a Kansas girl returned to the Presidio from Vancouver Barracks today preparatory to facing either honorable discharge or retirement by an army board according to high army officials.

The present hearing is understood to be on Clampitt's appeal against the action of the Army class B board in classifying him for discharge from the service.
